

Letter to Charles A. Alington, 26 May 1865

Livingstone, David, 1813-1873

Published by Livingstone Online (livingstoneonline.org)

[0001]

Burnbank Road

Hamilton

26 May 1865

Dear M^r Alington

We cannot always follow our own inclinations and
often that path
we would prefer
is not the best.
I should have liked
your company
I think, and this I cannot say of anyone else Col O
has offered - I am

[0002]

just writing a refusal to an offer from a Scotch doctor
who says he can refer to the highest authorities. One of these being a character after a previous trial
I suspect he cannot adduce
so I decline to have him.

I should like
the cot very well
if very strong

[0003]

and all the more

as coming from one for whom I entertain feelings of sincere esteem -
- strength not beauty, or rather strength is the chief quality
required, beauty -
though an advantage
is not so necessary

I am &c

David Livingstone

[0004]

My point for collecting luggage
at before starting
is, 19 Bucklesbury
London M^r Brown the agent
there takes care of my things

[0005]

Rev^d Charles A. Alington Swinhope House
Great Grimsby
S. B.
D^r L.