My Dear Shaw

Very many
and hearty thanks
for your letter, and the packet of journals &c
which accompanied
it. this is the first
scrape of your pen
I have recieved since
we came out and I confess that I was beginning to be im-
patient with my
semper idem Friend
[0002]

This however sets all
to rights and I am quite thankful.

I cannot tell you much about Rovuma yet
as we are waiting for H.M.S Lyra which brings us some coals
We have no bar.
And no bottom was
found with seventeen
fathoms across the mouth. An immense
body of water rolls
out a mile broad.
We went up some 8 miles yesterday
in a boat & saw [0003]
that it is evidently

in flood. people
speak same language
as on Zambesi so we shall get on. We are trying to get an entrance exterior to
the Portuguese claims
and are not permitted
to say anything
publicly, so this is
all between ourselves.
but by the way in
three months we shall be able to give you a good deal of
information about
[0004]
the Rovuma. At present
we cannot get a syllable
of information from
any one but no sooner
do we publish than Macqueen will start
up and say he knew
all about it. Why not tell you all
about it during the
next three months
or before we do?

I am sure that the journal of Silva Porto
is a literary fraud,
for I met him at the time specified
[0005]
either 1853 or 4. I think the former but
quote from memory
alone. He then said that he had tried to go East but failed
after going to about the Kafue. He tried to send a party of his people too but, [^] [they] failed and he got to the West before I did
and his journal
was published while
I was at Loanda.

His meeting with
me mentioned
[0006]
and not a word
about having gone
to the East Coast!!

If M^r Gabriel is now [^] [as he was lately] in England he will corroborate
the publication. His agent is Woodhead & co. James S^t. should you think it worth
while enquiring

Thanking you for your kind message
by M^{rs} L.

I am yours ever

David Livingstone

[I do not believe Macqueen guilty but he is duped by some one.]
