

Letter to John Murray III, 23 March 1865

Livingstone, David, 1813-1873

Published by Livingstone Online (livingstoneonline.org)

[0001]

23 March 1865

My Dear M^r Murray

Many thanks for your offer of a

book - I have no
copy & should like to have one.

M^r

Webb offered

to get one for Mr Moffat but it seems to have gone out of his head so you

[0002]

better send one to D^r

Tidman writing

in it from whom

it is sent. Thanks

for Tylor. It contains

nothing worth men

tioning on the point

the flint or stone

implements referred

to being comparatively

modern. That,

was all M^r Crawford

had to adduce for

the Stone Age having been all over the world. I recieved

Denman &c too

[0003]

Today I send you

45 - 56 - 57 - 73

73 - 82 - with

your friends

corrections all

inserted - and

manuscript heads

for chapters XII - XIII

XIV - XV - XVI all

straight. Indian

file but so many corrections that I should feel obliged
if it is seen to
that the printer may put all in. I think they will then be perfect

[0004]
for the next slip I am to want from one I sent to the printer - the Description of the Falls - I have your friends corrections
for it here - but wait
till I get 83 89 3^d
Revise from Clowes
I shall go in at Manuscript mean
while.

My heart is very
sore for the Makololo
a letter last night
tells me a complete
smash up such as we expected
has taken place

[0005]
in fact there is now
no Makololo tribe Sekeletu died - &
they got to fighting
among themselves
then & black
tribes rose - killed
his successor
& dispersed the remainder who
fled leaving all
their wives & children. All my goods which
were kept so faithfully for
ten years are of

[0006]
course gone.

I send the peek
note book yesterday
and am &c

David Livingstone

I omitted a
few words only
which seemed to be the result
of not having
read the whole