I enclose a letter for Robert which I wrote on the Molopo, if it will do address it If not tell me & I shall try & write a better = I have my answer to Mr Edwards letter open, the other to the Directors was written on the Molopo & may be sent off immediately If you think it ought to be sent now they may both go together

Richardson's dictionary, the hamper in which the apples were, and sail cloth bag in which the bed was rolled up. If anything else was to go back we have forgot but should it occur to us we shall return it by first opportunity If M<sup>r</sup> Hume could sell us one of his mills we should be glad, for we have both wheat & maize we could grind. We have excellent potatoes but a worm plagues them & kills large plants. What will destroy them?
Cornelius came & spoke to me about his soul on saturday last. He seemed much affected, I wished he had gone out straight to you. When he does come you will remember him. Sign<sup>d</sup> D. & M. Livingstone
