My Dear Captain Washington

It has occurred to me since parting that the horse power of M^r Laird's vessel is too small.

It would be sorry thing for us to be unable to stem the current in the only steamer the natives ever saw. Rennies are with two engines each having 10 H.P.

and they do on the Thames nicely. I mention this if it is not too late - and am

yours truly
