Sir

The company which was attempted to be formed at Lisbon
on the plan of the East India Company
did not recieve the sanction of the Portuguese Government

[0002]

It was concocted by a gentleman who is reported to have been a little "cracked" but the main idea
commended itself
to many as feasible
The numbers that supported him
in bringing it before the govern ment shewed anxiety
to get the country
off their hands

[0003]

but a pretty evident desire also to secure the ultimate benefits of English
capital & commercial enterprise to Portugal alone. In returning my great desire is to get the Zambesi proclaimed a free

pathway to the country beyond their possession They will derive benefit thereby but

[0004]
it remains to be seen whether the Portuguese Government is enlightened enough to see their own interest. If free passage is granted frankly then there is little doubt but that the Interior will be opened to trade & civilization

The work of S^r Botelho with which you are no doubt acquainted gives a very glowing account of the resources of East Africa

I am &c David Livingstone
