Dear Sir

I have no
great objection against giving an autograph
to a Lady but I feel
to be such a silly
thing to write my name for a great
heanimal like you
would'nt be better
now to spend the

[0002]

money you waste
in postage stamps
plaguing people,
in supporting a
poor shivering
half starved naked
boy or girl at a ragged school. I think one would remember having
saved the perishing
with greater pleasure
on a dying bed

[0003]

than that he had secured all the autographs from Ham's to old Abe Lincoln's
