

Letter to Unknown, [1 September-31 December 1859]

Livingstone, David, 1813-1873

Published by Livingstone Online (livingstoneonline.org)

[0001]

Private I feel every day more and more with the idea that a colony of own hardworking christian people the only means that will put a stop to the slave trade entirely - and render us of the produce of slave . this is the land for cotton & - and yet the few Portuguese here the labourers to a worse soil don't like to say much before hand in July we return to the Lakes & believe to open up the whole of Eastern .o.

[0002] but my heart is really sore to think Portuguese stand in the way. they have idea that a company will be formed they as masters of the soil will become without taking their cigars out of their . If you can do anything towards the idea of a colony prominently you will perform a great . I mean a Christian colony. A transplantation of all our peculiarities a Christian people and for a specific , bending all our energies to the extinction the trade in the bodies of men D Livingstone

This is to be returned to the Bp of Oxford