My dear Sir,

The passage from Livy is as follows:

Perfugas, fugitivosque, et captivos omnes rederrent Romanis, et naves rostratas, praeter decem triremes, traderent: elephantosque, quos haberent domitos neque domarent alios XXX. 37.

I have kept this note to insert D^r. Birch's reply as to the Egyptian name of the Island of Elephantine vol Philae, but will do so no longer, but write again.

Pray believe me

Yours very faithfully

Reg^d. Stuart Poole

Note enclose that printer may be correct in Latin quotation of footnote

page 600

This impossible to put this note on Elephants at page 600 - which is wholly on Religion. Nowhere in these 3 sheets can it be suitably inserted
I would omit it. J.M
