

Letter to Roderick I. Murchison

Livingstone, David, 1813-1873

Published by Livingstone Online (livingstoneonline.org)

[0001]

18 (Nov^r) 1864

My Dear Sir Roderick

I enclose a letter from the secretary of the American Geographical Society
which shews that
they too delight to do
you honour.

I never got a sight
of what you said
when Kirk spoke of the fossils fishes &
shells as corroborative
of your views as to Africa being so old,

[0002]

can you tell me where I could get it for I
must have it in the book. If you have not got the American Journal I shall lend
you mine but I
have not looked into
it myself yet.

After thinking a
good deal over poor Thornton's relations
claim to salary I think that the fact of their
having money
from the Paymaster
of the Navy shews

[0003]

that they have
the salary for which I signed a certificate

up to his lamented
death. The Navy paymaster general always paid the
salaries of the officers of our Expedition
mine was the only exception. So you need not feel distressed
about it

The poor fellow in his generous desire to help the mission incurred a debt £47 of which he was to from
Bishop Tozer.

[0004]
not to allow Thornton's credit to be injured among the Portuguese I paid
the £47. Tozer instead of refunding me sent
this sum to Thornton's
brother at Bradford
This was explained three months ago both by
me & Waller of the mission but M^r G.
Thornton has given me no answer. I suppose I must lose
it, but it wont distress me.

I shall answer the American letter when
you have seen it

David Livingstone