My Dear D<sup>r</sup> Hooker

There is some probability of an expedition being
sent up the Zambesi.
A deputation from the British Association has formed a committee[which met] at the Royal Society's apartments
on Saturday last

[0002]

General Sabine, D<sup>r</sup>
Lloyd, Sir H. Rawlinson
Sir R. Murchison
MacGregor Laird
& D<sup>r</sup> Robinson were present. They are to be strengthened by memorials from
the chambers of commerce of Liverpool
Manchester Leeds
& Birmingham &c.
& an interview with Lord Clarendon will come off soon. There is therefore some

[0003]

probability of success
The object being to survey the Zambesi
and get full information respecting the natural productions

of the new countries .

My Object in writing
you is rather a selfish
one. I believe you & I came through Graham's hands as well as D<sup>r</sup> Lyon Playfair
D<sup>r</sup> Thomson
Prof. G. Wilson
James Young our
under or superintendent

[0004]

I confess to having a feeling of partiality
to that squad and though I cannot indulge a ray of hope that you
will join us as there
no body in the wide world I should like better than you I am constrained to
say even without hope - I can 't go farther, but possibly if it comes to selection you will be able to recommend a sensible
good tempered fellow

[0005]

[though you don 't come yourself]
I don 't suppose I shall have anything to do
in the selection but I may have a power
of veto, probably
your father will be applied to. Between ourselves I don 't
want a German .
Do you see how these Schlagentweits
are hawked about
as if neither you
nor Thomson had ever been on the Hymalayas.

[0006]

We shall send over
that precious book
that gave me
such a deal of bother before long .

I hope M<sup>rs</sup> H.
recovered nicely .
I have been spouting
at different places
but am thankful
to say that work is now done. I go to Portugal soon And am Ever yours

David Livingstone
