My Dear M^r Murray

Enclosed you will see an example of Routledgism on a grand scale which I got from my brother this morning. hat's going the "whole hog"
and no mistake
I want it back
as a curiosity

[0002]

J.P. Jewett[of Boston] &c the publisher of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is anxious to get the book for the somewhat
slippery looking thing
"Ten per cent in the retail price of all
they sell" he says
this is the customary rate among publishers there. Jewett seems an honourable man
as he refused to

[0003]

publish a pro slavery work by a D. D.
whose other works
he had already published .

You of course understand the whole matter better than I do. I merely let you know what

my brother 's letter contains .

Dr Smith 's book
is splendidly bound
I am glad to have

[0004]
it by me in this form .
It is a magnificent present. I would have given my ears to have had it by me in Africa .

Believe me &c

David Livingstone

My brother saw my letter to the Times in America. hat
against Routledge .
