

Letter to Horace Waller

Livingstone, David, 1813-1873

Published by Livingstone Online (livingstoneonline.org)

[0001]

Kongone 30 July 1862

My Dear Waller

We met the Ariel Captain Oldfield on 24th and took in provisions but next day foul weather made us run
in and him run out.
On 26 at 5 ( P.M.) we went out over a tremendous bar got a boat from him - delivered our letters and ran in again - The captain is going home but will be out in 15 months - He is promoted

[0002]

We ran around three times in coming down and saw a prospect of very low water
both in Zambesi and Shire a month or six weeks hence - We got no Johanna men & Ariel was going to the Cape so we must go to Johanna for a crew and it is likely that we may spend the months between August & Nov<sup>r</sup> or Dec<sup>r</sup> in boat exploration

[0003]

of the Rovuma - This will be better work than slowly threading our way up to you -

I told Vianna about the cheating perpetrated against Blair and he only uttered a few Devil's blessings on
"these cursed negroes"
I have a £5 cask of wine on board for you - Scudi.
would not like it
so you must pitch into him - 2 bales of blue cloth are bespoke - & ready for you -

We are getting ready for sea - I send you

[0004]
mail up to Thornton and tell him to get Vianna to send it on at your expense - I do so because Vianna may be gone as he intended to Quillimane.
and in Thornton's hands it will be safe -

The bishop is gone to England for another head for you and there he will be successful -
You are not to get a steamer but I need not tell you what will no doubt be better told in your letters

[0005]
As for your ultimate success there can be no doubt of it. You will meet with trials difficulties and hinderances from without and from within - but it is God's own work and he will ensure its triumph.

From a hint I see in a Cape paper M<sup>r</sup> Stewart had written to M<sup>r</sup> Noble the editor of the Advertizer about some abstrudions he

[0006]
imagined had been thrown in his way at Natal - and M<sup>r</sup> Hawkins had called on the Editor in consequence and explained that nothing had been done by him.
I am very sorry that any sort of unfriendly feeling should appear in public I am conscious of but one feeling of respect and love for both parties and am sure that there is room enough and to spare for all who may

[0007]
wish to promote kingdom in this region.
If I might venture to suggest the more noble course to you.
To yourselves as superior to any petty feelings by acting as if you knew it not.
In time asperities will wear off - You must excuse my impertinence
in this presumptuous hint.

Captain Oldfield is disappointed to hear that you have not by this time houses

[0008]
as good as Sunley's

I explained the difficulties but he does not realize them - We hope to meet the Gorgon at Johanna - We have a box I think of medicines for you - and I shall bring up your cloth & grog in January
if possible - In the mean time. My Dear Friend keep up your heart remembering Him who is with you & always will be -

David Livingstone