

Letter to [Reginald C.E. Abbot?], 28 January 1858

Livingstone, David, 1813-1873

Published by Livingstone Online (livingstoneonline.org)

[0001]

[10][29] 50 Albermarle (St.)
[[not indexed]] London
28 January

1858

Dear Boy

If it will not deemed an intrusion one who has trod path of life some - ahead of you address a few words to a whom he has

[0002] seen I would that one of the comforts I enjoyed in my course flowed from to the command thy way unto the , trust also in , and he shall it to pass. This has been to my mind

[0003] [30] every step of my , I did my way to and he has guided well. I never much about my emotions, have an inveterate to count, but derived so internal strength “”acknowledging Lord in all my ”” I have thought

[0004] what your Mama said to about you, that beginning the path life you would to know this experience, and the Lord guide and preserve from all evil through infinite we meet in - yours be

David Livingstone