

Letter to Horace Waller, 30 May 1863

Livingstone, David, 1813-1873

Published by Livingstone Online (livingstoneonline.org) [0001]

Saturday 30 May 1863

My Dear HW

We send back the books with many thanks for the use of them.
they are somewhat
damaged by cockroaches
and one is not at hand, possibly
it may hence gone down - I mean
the volume of "All the year round
[0002]
I retain Keble for a little longer.

I am sorry that you did not succeed according to all our wishes
and your own
I guess you uttered
some of your terrific puns on the way & made Procter ill. I escaped relapse
myself by holding [0003]
in my breath as I read them. send a few more I wish to try if they will exorcise the cockroaches Better luck next time for you all
I hope Meller will cure Procter as quickly as he did his own case.

Yesterday for the first time
I walked a little [0004]
without feeling as if I should faint
this may be the effects of the iron
which I have taken
three times.

With good wishes
for you all I am &c

DL His Mark