My Dear Kirk

The curator of the Botanical garden and Museum here told me yesterday that he would recommend you to the Governor as a fit person to occupy his place - He was at college with you but did not know you otherwise than by sight - As it is likely from what I said to the Governor that you may get an offer I shall try to give you as clear an idea of the affair as possible - The salary is 300 Rupees a month say £500 or £600 a year with a good house which as rents have risen enormously is as much more He is going to ask an advance of pay & believes it will be £[R]700 a month or £840. This is not so much as it looks like owing to the high price of living now in Bombay - A horse & phaeton with horse boy servants would cost you in your free house 300 R or £300 a sad end was that of poor Ral - M<sup>r</sup> Brown of the same company now says that they are month, so with your R 500 to 700 you would have £20 & £40 over [say £240 or £480 to same yearly] the cost of horse & phaeton would be £150 - In house is in the Botanic Garden - and that is new - The Museum is only building - and is rather a fine building at the entrance to the Garden - you would direct the planting out and select plants - seeds and have men under you to do the work - The situation is flat, and during the monsoon patches of water lie adjacent - D<sup>r</sup> Birdwood has been the chief hand in getting up the gardens looks on them with great affection, and hence his anxiety to get a fit occupant while he retires I believe for a time on account of want of wealth & having been ten years out in Bombay - He suffers from fever and his stomach cannot bear quinine or arsenic - He is rather desponding as to his state of health The Governors band plays in the gardens & people flock to hear it - as you are a lady killer you might be successful in the matrimonial line there - Fruit & vegetables you would have free - The medical professor does not stand high disassociated from the sultan now - the will hire [0003] and you would have a fair share in home probably a large one - of the practice - D<sup>r</sup> Birdwood devotes his time more to literary pursuits than practice, hence & guess his duties do not occupy a large portion of his time - He is Gov Secretary to the Bombay Asiatic society & something else which bring honour & bother only - My impression is that if nothing better has turned up yet and the offer comes you might accept it as a step in the right direction - If employed the Governor would provide for you elsewhere in the event of Birdwood resuming his duties - He gave his private physician D<sup>r</sup> Steadman a good appointment as head of the Sir Jamsetjee Jhejeebhoy hospital - there are many Scotchmen here - and they are clannish but all making money & eager to go home - The climate is not good but with care one may enjoy good health - whether you ought to take this when offered as a stepping stone to something else or decline it as likely to shelve you into Indian ways I cant say It is an important step in life and with more risk than at home - I would run the risk of a higher their labour in open market he does not know of Ral's brother coming out - Is Ral's wife his [heir?] [0004]

stake than usually offers a shove but you must decide & I trust that God will give wisdom to act for the best -

It is rather premature in me to write so much about what His Excellency may or may not do - I think it likely He will be disposed to make you an offer He is a very good man - is accused of being too soft - but it is in man -ner only - when I hear more I shall let you have it This goes by a new company started by American's "Stearns Hobart &c" who send cotton by the overland route & charge only £60 [^] [passage money] from this to Liverpool - I am living with one of them M<sup>r</sup> Stearns a very good fellow - I dont know my starting day & hence I write now in case of being called off - all my men are ready - I am not to wait for a man of war but go in one of Sherow Osbornes fleet called Mule a present of the Sultan of Zanzibar - Seward is acting there - no appointment has been made

Affectionably yours

David Livingstone
