My Dear D^r Shaw

I sent a
note to M^r MacGregor
last night desiring him to apply to you for the map as I mean to say a little at Manchester. and I hope he may

[0002]

find you still at Dublin. I quite forgot to accept
of the offer you
made & bring it with me. I was a little bewildered
I suppose. If you are still in Dublin
Be kind enough to give it to him
and he will forward

[0003]

it to Manchester whither I am going tomorrow. the children go to Scotland at the same time.

Captain Toynbee
has been looking over my observations
and is much pleased with them You remember Sir Roderick send

[0004]

send that the R.G.S.

would publish them
Now I wish to put the results i.e. a table of the Latitudes and Longitudes at the end of the book
Would that interfere with the publication of them by the society with Captain Toynbee's remarks?
The Admiral has undertaken to correct the press - and CapⁿToynbee thinks they may prove useful to travellers. Would you drop a line to say if I may put in the table. Many of them have been already published in your journal

Have you heard anything of a steamer for the Zambesi?

I heard a little just before leaving Dublin on tuesday
